

Paxton Andrews on Vietnam

by ANMessent

amessent@parallel-worlds.net

“Rice paddies unlike any other in the world, oleander mixed with the smell of charcoal fires, dark gleaming hair coiled on the heads of beautiful women, I wake up with such a sense of loss, I think I can never stand to feel it again, but I do the next night or the next, if there's another reality in this world, it just doesn't exist for me.”

Paxton Andrews giving her thoughts on leaving Vietnam.
This is a quote from the movie “Message from Nam”